

Web Designer

Salary: £30,000 depending on experience

Absolute has been established for over 18 years. We are a branding and web development agency with an impressive and varied client base. We are looking for an experienced and talented developer to join our web development team.

As part of a multi-disciplinary creative team, working closely with our account managers and web developers, you will work to ensure brand continuity and a highly interactive and engaging user experience. You will create innovative designs for our clients' websites (ranging from content-managed brochure sites to brand-driven retail sites and ecommerce), Flash animations and email marketing campaigns.

This role is all about designing vibrant, exciting new websites. You will have a technical understanding of HTML and CSS and the possibilities within these areas. As an ideal candidate you will have agency experience, with a portfolio of exciting web designs. You will demonstrate a strong creative bias, with well-developed user interface skills and will be able to supply technically considered designs for production by our in-house web development team.

You will have client-facing experience and be able to present and explain the rationale behind your designs, plus project manage their development in conjunction with an account manager, web manager and client contact.

With a minimum of 4 years' industry experience, you would be expected to suggest innovative and original ideas for new websites; as such, you will constantly keep yourself up to date with the latest industry developments and inspirational new sites.

In terms of software, you will have excellent skills using the Adobe Suite (Photoshop, Illustrator, Flash, Dreamweaver)

Applicants should send a full CV, with details of previous online experience; accompanied by a list of URLs of sites you have designed in the past, detailing your direct involvement in each.

Submit your CV, together with example URLs via the form on our website:
